Re: Web Developer

Please find enclosed a copy of my CV in response to the advertised vacancy.

As you will notice from my CV, I am currently a lead web developer and work on a wide range of projects. I do also have academic achievements and work experience in a variety of roles, which also provides me with the skills and experience relevant for your company. I am skilled in PHP and MVC frameworks such as Codeigniter, MySQL, Linux Administration and Security, HTML, Javascript, JQuery, Java and Android Development. I believe that my high attention to detail, motivation, communication, multi-tasking and problem-solving skills would also prove valuable assets. I am also great working with teams or on my own. I believe this role provides me the opportunity to grow as a developer, while also contributing to the growth of your company.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

Sidney Barrah
